

Dai Za Than is a Zomi refugee from Myanmar we began serving in 2020. Initially we met him because of some issues the family was facing with Social Security and the family's bank. He lives with his son and his daughter-in-law. Both work and have limited English. Soon thereafter, Dai was diagnosed with a blood cancer which was a frightening and daunting diagnosis for this family unfamiliar with US medical care. Our case manager assisted the family in many ways as they navigated the landscape of doctor appointments, treatments, blood tests, and medical emergencies.

The family is extremely grateful for having a reliable partner in walking through this challenging season of life. All families want assurance and compassion as serious life issues are faced. Thanks to the West End Home Foundation, we were able to bring that dignity.
